Los Angeles/Orange County Center of Excellence, March 2020

Summary Analysis

The Los Angeles/Orange County Center of Excellence for Labor Market Research (COE) prepared this report to provide Los Angeles/Orange County regional labor market supply and demand data related to one middle-skill occupation: fitness trainers and aerobics instructors (39-9031). Middle-skill occupations typically require some postsecondary education, but less than a bachelor's degree.¹ This report is intended to help determine whether there is demand in the local labor market that is not being met by the supply from community college programs that align with the relevant occupation.

Based on the available data, there appears to be a supply gap for fitness trainers and aerobics instructors in the region. However, entry-level wages for this occupation are below the California Family Needs Calculator hourly wage (living wage) for one adult. Therefore, the COE cautiously endorses this proposed program. Reasons include:

Demand:

- Over the next five years, there is projected to be 3,249 jobs available annually in the region due to new job growth and replacements, which is more than the 154 awards conferred annually by educational institutions in the region.
- Entry-level hourly wages for fitness trainers and aerobics instructors are $16.49 in Los Angeles County, which is above that county's living wage, and $15.58 in Orange County, which is below that county's living wage.
 - Median hourly wages are $24.42 in Los Angeles County and $23.03 in Orange County, both of which are above each county's living wage.
- The national-level educational attainment data indicates 34.3% of workers in the field have completed some college or an associate degree as their highest level of education.
 - The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) lists a high school diploma or equivalent as the typical-entry level education for this occupation.
 - There were 3,551 online job postings related to fitness trainers and aerobics instructors listed in the past 12 months. Of the 3,551 fitness trainers and aerobics instructor job postings, 21% (743) were specific to yoga instructors.

- All occupations that require an educational requirement of some college, associate degree or apprenticeship;
- All occupations that require a bachelor's degree, but also have more than one-third of their existing labor force with an educational attainment of some college or associate degree; or
- All occupations that require a high school diploma or equivalent or no formal education, but also require short- to long-term on-the-job training where multiple community colleges have existing programs.

- Of the 16% of yoga instructor job postings listing a minimum education requirement in Los Angeles/Orange County, 56% (67) requested a high school diploma or equivalent, 37% (44) requested a bachelor’s degree, and 7% (8) requested an associate degree.

Supply:

- Eight community colleges in the region offer fitness trainer programs, conferring an average of 29 awards annually between 2015 and 2018.
- Between 2013 and 2016, there were an average of 125 awards conferred annually in related training programs by non-community college institutions, all of which were generated by four institutions throughout the region.
